A photograph of a bright, modern living room. On the left, a dark leather sofa sits on a light-colored tiled floor. In front of it is a low, light-colored coffee table. Large floor-to-ceiling windows with dark frames and curtains offer a view of a balcony and greenery. To the right, a long, low white shelf holds various books and decorative items. A small television and other electronic equipment are placed on a dark stand against the back wall. A red and black chair is partially visible in the bottom right corner.
